dissemination of interesting and notable academic genres of research. Presented as a Social Media graphics on qoutable qoute (approved and uploaded on March 11, 2022) on a research, Prof. Arnie G. Dizon converted his research article, "Content Analysis of K to 12 World History Teaching Guides in terms of Teaching Approaches", to entice readers to read his full article. The article discussed the need for history teachers to focus on the development of historical thinking and understanding among students using various teaching approaches as history education has been riddled with issues due to historical controversies and conflicting views of history, especially now where fake and biased news has become more rampant.

of the University from January to March 2022. Phase 1 of the training featured the synchronous sessions combining plenary sessions and workshops facilitated by the ESTA-PNU team and were conducted on January 27-28, 2022 and February 4-5, 2022. The second phase featured a month-long asynchronous sessions of six small groups with selected mentors from the team to develop Lesson Exemplars. For the closing activity, the completed Lesson Exemplars of the six groups were presented by their corresponding representatives to a panel of evaluators who were Dr. Zenaida Q. Reyes, Dr. Ruth A. Alido and Prof. Crisanto A. Ocampo as panel members held during the Closing Ceremonies on March 16, 2022.

Dr. Morales was reelected as NRCP Division Chair for a Second Term

By: Sienna

Dr. Marie Paz E. Morales, Director of the Publication, once again proves her exemplary service as she was reelected as the Chairperson of the National Research Council of the Philippines-Division of Governmental, Educational, and International Policies for a second term. She also took her oath as the newly elected Board Corporate Secretary of the Executive Committee of the Governing Board of the same council at the Philippine International Convention Center (PICC) on March 29, 2022.

she served as a resource person for various research-related events.

Dr. Morales has attended six (6) colloquia and research engagements for the first quarter of 2022. Her first engagement was on February 15, 2022 with Jose Rizal Memorial State University (JRMSU) as a plenary speaker on Trends and Issues of Action Research in Higher Education Context. On the next day, February 16, 2022, she conducted a Webinar on Action Research to the faculty of Romblon State University (RSU). She also graced the 1st Multidisciplinary Research Congress: “Translating Research Projects into Publishable Articles” on February 18, 2022 of DMMC-Institute of Health Sciences as a Plenary Speaker. In February 21, 2022, she facilitated workshops on Writing Research Proposals for Funding and Translating Thesis and Dissertation to Publishable Research in Isabela State University (ISU). She capped the quarter with a keynote speech in the CHTM Research Colloquium and Symposium on March 21, 2022 in Taguig City University (TSU).

Dr. Morales’ continuous attendance to research and publication-related speaking engagements further proves that she is one of the sought-after educators of the University.
